ALTONA EAST... OR PAISLEY?

We'll know
next week

Altona's third high school will keep the name Paisley unless the Minister for Lands, Mr. Borthwick, decides otherwise when he gives his final ruling on the school's name on Monday.

The new school is under construction on SEC land near the corner of Blenheim Road and Mason Street, Altona North.

Until it is built, the first intake of students (163) are being housed in three portable classrooms at Altona North High School.

The decision by Mr. Borthwick on Monday should clear up much confusion over the school name and settle the feud between the Education Department and Altona Council.

Council is emphatic that the new school should be called Altona East High School, and the Education Department is equally adamant that it should remain Paisley High School.

Council feels that as there is no place called Paisley — apart from a small railway station and the old briquette dump — the name would be misleading.

People, the council says, would not associate the school with Altona, where most of the students will come from.

The Department, on the other hand, is not eager for a third high school to bear the name Altona.

"Already there have been mail mix-ups over Altona High and Altona North High," the principal of the new school, Mr. David Collins, said.

"SHOCKED"

At last week's council meeting, councillors were shocked to find that the Education Department was still calling the school Paisley High, despite an announcement in the Government Gazette before Christmas that it would be known as Altona East High.

Mr. Collins told the Star last week that the school would be known as Paisley High until the Education Department informed him otherwise.

He said the school already had a symbol on the school bags, which had been made available to students.

"All I am concerned with is getting the school built," Mr. Collins said.

At the council meeting last week, councillors agreed to place an Altona East High School sign in Mason Street to show the Education Department that they had a fight on their hands (see picture).

But the sign was removed soon after at the request of the Department... so that contractors could find their way to the new school site.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS

● "Which will it be — Altona East or Paisley?" ... Altona's Mayor, Cr. Pat Lynch (kneeling) and Cr. Charlie Carlsson were wondering last week.

The council put up the school sign in retaliation when it was discovered that the Education Department was still calling the school Paisley.

But, shortly after this picture was taken by Star photographer, LES O'ROURKE, the sign was taken down at the request of the Education Department.

C.U.B. to build $2m plant in Grieve Pde.

Carlton and United Breweries Ltd. will build a $2 million hop extract plant in Grieve Parade.

The plant will be built on five acres of land which the company is buying from Mauri Bros. and Thomson (Vic.) Co.

Construction will take about two years to complete. But, as yet, no starting date has been announced.

A spokesman for Carlton and United Breweries Ltd. this week told the Star the plant would process about three million pounds of raw hops a year.

The hop extract would then be used to supply the company's 11 breweries and for export purposes, he said.

The spokesman added that his company had the world patent on Isomerised hop extract following a recent international marketing agreement that Carlton and United had secured.

He said Altona had been chosen as a site for the plant because it was able to supply industrial land with sewerage and drainage and was close to service facilities.

Altona was also close to the Hume Highway, and completion of the Westgate Bridge would make the plant even more accessible to traffic.

The work force at the plant will be about 10 at any given time.

Company representatives last night met with Altona Council to outline their scheme.

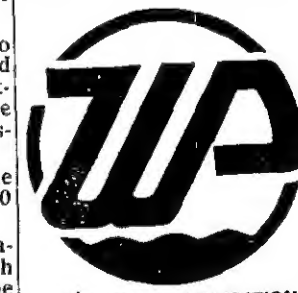

Councillors were told

Hello Girls,

This time of the year your hair needs extra care to look its loveliest, and with the lightness the summer sun has given it it can look beautiful if it is shiny and healthy.

Firstly, be sure it is really washed clean. How many of you with long haired menfolk are for ever telling them to wash their hair?

Are they using the correct type of shampoo for their hair?

Steiner have shampoo for Dry-to-normal hair, Oily-to-normal or Herbal Shampoo.

Steiner S3 Shampoo is a family shampoo when any hair problem needs special attention. Thorough rinsing is the secret.

Test for complete cleanliness and complete lack of soap — run fingers through just rinsed hair — it should "squeak" with cleanliness.

Conditioning your hair against dryness by wind and weather is a must.

This is quickly, easily done with Steiner Sebosyn. Just squeeze the smallest amount and rub through your hair while still wet and leave on.

Sebosyn corrects over-permed hair, over-bleached hair, dry hair, brittle hair.

Sebosyn, containing near to nature's own ingredients, is an effective hair re-vitaliser. Always use Sebosyn before sunbaking. Used correctly it is completely non greasy.

Girls, as hair structure is similar to nail structure — what better than Sebosyn massaged on cracked or splitting nails. Massage into cuticles and around nails. Non-greasy. Sebosyn acts as a setting lotion too.

Apply to your hair as often as necessary. Comb through. On hot, humid days, apply a small amount of Sebosyn and brush thoroughly. It revives lifeless hair.

Remember it is ideal for the menfolk too.

A Special, Girls.

Large size L'Aimant Talc by Coty.

In a time of many showers talc powder is so refreshing.

Overcome dressing in sticky heat, shake, girls, shake plenty of heavenly L'Aimant Talc.

Bye.

Jenny needs no sympathy she's too happy for that

By SUE GAVAGHAN

Mrs. Jenny Bawden said:
"Don't write a sob story, will you?"

Well, nothing had been further from my mind.

I had just sat in on a meeting of seven happy, laughing women. It wasn't sob story material.

But it could well have been. All the women had one thing in common behind their apparently care-free smiles — they suffer excruciating pain.

They are all members of the Rheumatism and Arthritis Association of Victoria.

The organisation has simple aims and ideals — and a great shortage of ready cash.

But those cheerful grins just might overcome that particular problem — with a little bit of help from the Government, hopefully, and one or two generous contributors.

The meeting I attended was held at the home of Mrs. Jenny Bawden, the president-secretary of the Altona Auxiliary.

Jenny kills all fallacies about rheumatism and arthritis affecting only the middle aged and elderly. She is only 28.

And she is right in the middle of the cabbage patch.

Jenny has suffered from Rheumatoid Arthritis since she was 19.

This is a combination of rheumatism (muscular pain) and osteo arthritis (localised joint pain).

Jenny has both throughout her body. One hand is crippled and deformed and she has had numerous operations on her legs.

At 22 she got married to a "wonderful man."

Alan Bawden is 28, works with Petroleum Refineries Australia, and, is obviously very much in love with his wife.

When he married Jenny he took on the housekeeping, the cooking, the cleaning, the shopping and accepted that there would be no kids.

Jenny could have children, but would not be able to look after them properly.

That's the sad side of things, but there is such a happy atmosphere in the home that it somehow gets forgotten by the visitor.

The association was formed in 1969 by Dr. Leslie Koadlow and Mrs. Mollie Riches.

Mollie has been an arthritic for 40 years, and is vice-president and life governor of the association.

She is bright and jovial and happy and in pain.

Not that she is going to whinge about it to your or anybody else.

● Mrs. Jenny Bawden of the Rheumatism and Arthritis Association of Victoria. Mrs. Bawden says there are many people who should join the group.

She says: "We got the association going because we felt there was a need for people like us to get together and mix and to try to overcome our problems."

"Arthritics tend to be very apathetic people and inwardly depressed."

"They will not get themselves going even though they want to."

There are five auxiliaries within the association, at Brighton, Mt. Waverley, Seaford, Essendon and the western suburbs, with groups in Sunshine and Altona.

The association has over 500 members.

Jenny says: "It is really hard getting people to come to the meetings."

"I know there are hundreds of people in Altona who are sufferers. Our meetings are good fun get together."

"People just do not realise, they don't come to visit you because they feel they would be awkward, they never consider offering a lift to the local shops or anything like that."

Footnote: One of the association's first members was the former Leader of the Opposition, Mr. Arthur Calwell.

Mr. Calwell suffers from severe arthritis.

Naturalisation ceremony

The second naturalisation ceremony at the Altona council chambers this year will be on Monday night, February 28.

The first ceremony for the year was held last Monday night.

Fat females feel free from flab

The fat ladies around your street can lose a bit of weight and help make Australia beautiful.

Their solution is to join the T.O.W.N. club that serves the western suburbs.

T.O.W.N. — Take Off Weight Naturally, meets every Thursday night in the Presbyterian Church Hall, Paringa Road, Altona North.

It costs 30 cents a week and the club's present 25 members have been averaging a total weight loss of between 38 and 42 lbs. a week.

There are no drugs, no gimmicks, simple oral therapy, mass weigh-ins, good social fun and the exclusion on "ukky foods".

Each month the lady who loses the most becomes Queen for a month. Members need a doctor's certificate and should be over one and a half stone overweight.

THE POLICE SERGEANTS WITH A SINGLE CHEVRON

BY JOHN DIXON

So you've looked when a policeman sporting a single chevron on his shirt is addressed by a young policeman as sergeant.

Don't get upset if you have. So have many other people . . . including police and court roundsmen representing many sections of the news media.

The changes were made after the Victorian Government received a report from crime-control expert, Colonel Sir Eric St. Johnston.

Sir Eric had undertaken the investigation for the Government into raising even further the standard of the Victoria Police Force . . . recognised as one of the world's best police departments.

His report called for re-adjustment in the rank status of members of the police force here.

As a result, the rank of constable is the only minor one not to change, although first and second commissions have been switched.

But they mean, when you're looking at a policeman and considering his rank, almost complete change of seniority.

The no-chevron constables will retain their present grading. FIRST CONSTABLES under the present system wear two chevrons and become SENIOR CONSTABLES.

SENIOR CONSTABLES under the present control will become SERGEANTS and wear three chevrons. SERGEANTS under the new system will become SENIOR SERGEANTS and will wear, instead of chevrons, a crown with a laurel wreath around it.

In the senior ranks, inspectors at present graded as first and second, will all retain the same commission, that of inspector.

Chief inspectors and superintendents retain the same titles and a new rank — chief inspector — had been introduced.

Why are many of the uniformed men still sporting their identifications as before the change?

We'll let you into a secret . . . new chevrons haven't left the manufacturers yet.

"Alright, you've got me," man told police

Police investigating a breaking and entering had been told by a man they found on the premises, "Alright, you've got me," Footscray Court was told.

Leslie John Cavanagh pleaded not guilty to a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony.

Police told the court they had found Cavanagh, of McDonald Road, Altona North, in the premises of Mid-dendorp Electrical Co. Pty. Ltd., in Somerville Crime Car police told the court they found a smashed glass in the door to the Middendorp premises, while patrolling the area.

They had found Cavanagh inside and he replied when asked his reason for being in the building, "alright, you've got me."

At Footscray police station he had admitted having entered the premises, but denied having broken in.

Before the police evidence on this point was finished Cavanagh called across the courtroom, "hold on, who said I broke in."

"I didn't say that."

"I pleaded guilty to entering, not to breaking," he told Mr. Miller.

Mr. Miller said he found the entering charge proved, but not the breaking.

Cavanagh admitted prior convictions for store-breaking and stealing; assault and garage-breaking and stealing.

Mr. Miller imposed a three months prison sentence.

13 Mulga St., Altona

Teachers at St. Paul's College, Altona, took part recently in a five-day programme aimed at improving communication between teachers and students.

It is believed to be the first time in Victoria that the entire teaching staff of a school has taken part in such a programme.

The programme was conducted by Dr. W. R. Lett, the senior lecturer in education at La Trobe University, and Dr. Cantwell, a priest involved in the training of men entering the Franciscan order.

It was arranged at the request of the headmaster, Father D. Winters.

Dr. Lett said the teachers studied topics like adolescent psychology, micro-teaching (using videotapes of actual lessons) and other modern teaching techniques.

He said the programme was designed to make teachers feel more comfortable with their class, to increase openness between teacher and student, to boost teachers' confidence in themselves, and to give them new ideas about teaching methods.

Safety First in Schools & Home

Every year many hundreds of pre-school and primary school children are needlessly hurt in accidents around the home and on the roads. "The Age" in conjunction with the National Safety Council will, on Monday (February 21), publish a four-page lift-out feature with some color illustrations on safety first in school and home, designed especially for parents of school-aged children. Topics covered in the supplement are the 10 safety commandments; driving your children to school, how to avoid accidents in the home, road safety, drill for small children, bicycles, as well as many safety hints on swimming, dangerous substances, fire, shock and other accidents.

The feature illustrates traffic lights in color and will include photographs easily followed by small children. We recommend this to all primary schools and mothers' clubs as an invaluable educational aid.

You may order "The Age" on Monday, February 21 through your local newsagent or bulk orders may be placed direct with "The Age." Please telephone Mr. Lyons on 60 0421, extension 2522.

Field for Sandown Grand Prix

The strongest, fastest and possibly closest field of racing cars ever assembled at Sandown will contest the 37th Australian Grand Prix on Sunday.

Three Britons, 13 Australians, an American, a Canadian, four New Zealanders and a Belgian driver are in the 23 contestants for the 20 grid places in the 100-mile Rothmans-sponsored Tasman seventh round.

The leading drivers include Frank Gardner (Lola T300 Chevrolet), Mike Hailwood (Surtees TS8 Chevrolet), Frank Matich (Matich A50 Repco), Bob Muir (Lola T300 Chevrolet), Kevin Bartlett (McLaren M10B Chevrolet), Max Stewart (Elfin Repco), Evan Noyes (McLaren M18 Chevrolet), David Hobbs (McLaren M22 Chevrolet), Warwick Brown (McLaren M10B Chevrolet), Tony Stewart (Mildren Waggott), Graham McRae (Leda GM1 Chevrolet), Teddy Pilette (McLaren M10B Chevrolet) and John Harvey in a Repco Brabham BT36 two-litre car.

The race, which will be started by former three-times world champion driver, Jack Brabham, will run over 52 laps of the 1.92 mile Sandown circuit at an average speed of more than 160 miles an hour.

Meanwhile in another racing car event during the day — the Moomba Trophy — the non-qualifiers for the AGP, will meet 1600cc Formula Two racing cars in a 15-lap duel.

Henk Woelders (Elfin Waggott), Clive Millis (Elfin Ford 600B), Ian Cook (Devione LC2 Ford), Maurice Quincey (Elfin 600B), Alfredo Costanzo (Elfin Ford Lotus), and Chris Milton (Elfin Ford) are among the top Formula 2 drivers who have entered.

—And with only 20 places available on the Australian

Grand Prix grid, there is certain to be a spill-over of four-valve Formula 2 or Formula 5000 cars into the event which starts at 2.05 and will be run over 15 laps.

Later in the day, the Formula Ford and Formula 3 drivers will be out to see which group is quicker around the fast Sandown track in the Lee Seaton Motor Auctions scratch event over 5 laps.

Brian Sampson's Speco-Toyota, Bob Punch's Elfin Mono and Bob Nissen's Elfin are among the top Formula Three drivers while all the leading Formula Ford drivers — Peter Lerner, John Leffler, Graham Reville, Enno Buesse, Michael Stillwell, Bob Beasley and Murray Coombs, will be in the F.F. Ranks.

The Sandown Meeting starts at 11.10 a.m.

JAPAN ANNOUNCES NEW TOYOTA

A new Toyota, the Mark II, has been announced in Japan. Available in sedan and hardtop forms, it fills the gap in the range between the popular Corona 1600 and the recently introduced 2.6 litre Crown.

The Mark II, which has an extremely luxurious specification, will be available with a 2-litre six-cylinder engine in its sedan form while the hardtop will feature a 2.3 litre six.

Features of the new model include extremely sleek, modern styling, a very full specification, overhead camshaft engine and four headlamps.

Introduction to Australia in full-imported form is anticipated later this year, bringing the Toyota range up to five models — the very successful Corolla, sporting Celica, Corona, Crown and Mark II, covering the capacity range from 1200 to 2600 cc and catering for a very wide spectrum of motoring tastes and requirements.

Moffat Tipped

Australia's top-two touring car drivers Allan Moffat and Bob Jane will continue their Mustang-Torana battle at Sandown's Australian Grand Prix motor race meeting on Sunday.

But this time the odds could be in favor of a Moffat victory.

The production car king of Australia will run his 480 horsepower Trans-Am car as a sports sedan at the meeting in the two-heats-and-a-final Buckley's Toby Lee event.

400 came to play centre

At least 400 children attended the National Fitness Council's holiday play centre at the Altona Youth Hall and Grant Reserve during the school holidays.

Reporting to Altona Council, Centre Supervisor, Lindsay Gore said centres had been run throughout the State from January 4 to January 21.

He said the daily average attendance at the Altona centre had been about 200.

A staff of 10 leaders with the Altona group, included several voluntary helpers. They were Deborah Young, Karen Rolstone, Kathy Bolmer, Jody O'Dowd and Ronen Sinha.

Activities at the centre included various ball games, creative dancing, athletics, swimming, squash, art work, drama and reading. In addition to these activities, excursions were made to

Luna Park, the zoo, St. Mortiz, Tullamarine Airport, Healesville Sanctuary, You Yangs, and the panomimes, Pinocchio and Winnie the Pooh. A three-day camp at Millgrove was also held.

A swimming carnival between different centres from the western suburbs was conducted at North Melbourne swimming pool. Children who performed well were Deidre McGlashan, Leanne Campbell, John Ridgway and girls and boys in both water polo teams.

One activity which proved a great success was a walkathon to raise money for the purchase of a seeing eye dog. The children were sponsored by local residents and collectively raised $103.

The centre's activities ended with a break-up party. Local shopkeepers who donated goods for the party and contributed to its success were: Mr. N. Constantinidis, Goudies' Milk Bar, A. & E. Angelopoulos, Sarros Bros., Mayflower Milk Bar, I. Stougiannos, Fred's Milk Bar, S. Gault, Noonan's Bakery and Napoleon Gotsis Milk Bar.

Australian Carbon Black made its squash court available for squash coaching of the older children.

'TOWN BATSMEN FAIL BADLY

Williamstown captain John Peters, like most skippers on Saturday, elected to send in the opposition after he won the toss at Brighton.

But, despite the rain and Keith Miller made ffect pitch, his decision did not pay off. Spear-headed by a solid 61 by opener Macafee, Brighton reached 163.

Despite good bowling by Peters (3/45) and McKenzie (3/42), the home side was able to score freely.

Regular opening bowler Ray Salter (on his honeymoon in typhoon swept Surfers' Paradise) was sadly missed.

At tea the score was 7 for 142, but Tom Seal (3/45) had the tail-enders out soon after.

Williamstown opened badly when McConnell was caught and bowled by Tonkin without scoring.

Phil McTaggart was caught behind also without scoring, then Barry Hewat was back in the pavilion for the third duck of the innings. Robin Dyson (15) and Spike Harris (14) tried to hold the side together. Dyson hit a great six, but failed to go on.

Noel McLeod retired after being hit in the head by the first ball he faced. Peters made only one and Tom Seal four.

Don McKenzie helped the score along with some bright batting. He was joined by Ferris and they were 32 and 12 not out respectively at stumps. But Williamstown are still 81 behind a big task.

While McKenzie is there and with Noel McLeod to come back, there is a chance.

Seconds captain Norm Shaw won the toss and sent Brighton in.

Good bowling by Keith Miller and Bob Ducrow soon had them in big trouble.

Miller took 7/37 off 12 overs and Ducrow 3/31 off 11 overs.

In two hours, Brighton were dismissed for 68. Another highlight of the innings was three catches taken by Jeff Salter.

Williamstown opened badly with Alan Harris (3), Kev Tweedly (7) and Bert Park (7) going cheaply.

Frank Bowyer, after being missed a couple of times, finally was out for 14.

Brian Park was out for 0

The curtain rises

By Thisbe

Big business was not the only thing affected by the power strike.

Theatres are not permitted to use lighting at all, so rehearsals at Williamstown Little Theatre have been exciting, lantern-lit affairs.

Posters by Scharnweber have been a feature of the show for the past two years, but now the publicity people are feeling the strain.

Scharnweber has designed and set up the print, but no photo-copies could be made until the power restrictions are lifted.

If anyone can't read the hand-written, substitute posters, the play is Neil Simons' (Barefoot in the Park) Odd Couple.

The play is directed by Louis Blake, who produced Rattle of a Simple Man, Woman in a Dressing Gown and more recently Wait Until Dark at Williamstown.

The production will be staged at the Williamstown Little Theatre for a season of 10 nights from Wednesday, February 23

JUVENTUS SIGNS JOHNNY PERIN

By Laurie Schwab

In a major transfer deal, Juventus last week signed national squad member Johnny Perin, who will line up for his new team in the Ampol Cup match against George Cross on Friday night.

Perin 25, toured the world with the national team in 1970, was in the Australian World Cup squad in 1969 and played in the Vietnam tournament of 1970.

Juventus Melbourne paid Juventus Adelaide an undisclosed fee for Perin's services until the end of the season.

Although it is only a loan arrangement, the Melbourne club has an option to buy him.

Perin has been transferred to Melbourne by his employer, Lapco Pty. Ltd. Friday's Ampol Cup round has been previewed in this column twice before. Each time the games were called off by the power strike.

Until now, George Cross looked a safe bet in the match against Juventus but the signing of Perin and the return of "rebels" Jock Goodwin, Sandy Irvine and Keith Webster may swing the game Juventus way.

The "rebels" were out of the team due to a dispute with the club over money.

All three are very talented players. Irvine has represented Australia and Goodwin has played many games for Victoria.

Webster at his best is one of the fastest and most elusive linkmen in Melbourne.

With Perin, Crombie and Webster in midfield, Juventus should be able to offset the combined brilliance of George Cross' Kevin Walker.

Juventus, which is at the foot of its four-team table, must win this match to stay in the running for the semi-finals.

If George Cross wins, it is likely to move to the top of the table, ahead of Melbourne, which has the poor goal average of 4.2.

J.U.S.T. safe

Footscray J.U.S.T. should beat Colonia in the other Ampol Cup match at Olympic Park on Friday.

At this early stage it even looks like a J.U.S.T.-Croatia final.

Croatia is the Ampol Cup and State League Cup holder and J.U.S.T. recently followed up its 1971 State League championship by winning the televised five-a-side competition.

So on form, achievements and reputation, these are the two giants of the Ampol Cup.

Croatia currently heads its group with two wins from two matches, while

8-2 fiasco

Touring Czech side Slovan Bratislava made fools of a combined Footscray-J.U.S.T. — South Melbourne Hellas side last Tuesday, winning 8-2 although playing at half pace.

Slovan should have recorded double figures but it looked as if the Czechs didn't want to.

They tried to beat three and four men in the goal area, shot weakly from as close as five yards, rarely used their greater pace to advantage and generally looked as if they were on a training jog.

Nevertheless, their score was the highest recorded by a touring side in Victoria for many, many years.

The Victorians' only moment of glory came in the sixth minute, when Peter Bourne of Hellas gave them an early lead.

The locals were still in the match at 2-2 in the 25th minute but from then on it was one-way traffic and the teams changed ends at 4-2.

Star of the match was Slovan's left winger Ian Copkovic, who scored three goals and set up another two.

J.U.S.T.-Hellas did not have even one good player.

Scores: Slovan: Jan Capkovic, 12th min. (penalty), 30th min. 70th min. Svehlik 15th, Masny 36th, Moder 69th, Haraslin 82nd, Jan Zlocha 85th. (penalty). J.U.S.T.-Hellas: Bourne 6th., Buljevic 25th.

Teams: Slovan: Sedlek, Josef Capkovic (Gogh 75th), Mutkovic, Hrvnak, Jan Zlocha, Medvid (Moder half time), Hrdlicka, Pekarik, Masny, Svehlik (Haraslin 75th), Jan Capkovic.

J.U.S.T.-Hellas: Fode (Vujatovic 72nd), Zivkovic, Rosca, Lopatic, Bedford, Pyrgolios (Milinov 74th), Gorrie, Bourne, Armstrong, Rujevic (Mandalis 17th.), Buljevic.

— A GUIDE

TO LEISURE

By PETER VAUGHAN

There are in Melbourne today hundreds of restaurants which boast of international cuisine, second to none wine stocks and superb service.

Few I am afraid, live up to their claims, for a really first-rate restaurant is as hard to find as the pearl in the oyster.

Yet when one does finally come face to face with such an establishment all the failures tend to be forgotten as one rejoices in the knowledge that here at last is a restaurant without peer.

The MAYFAIR ROOM at the Hotel Southern Cross is such a place.

It claims to be an international restaurant and it certainly lives up to that claim because not only could it compete openly with the best in the world, it also is a haven for the overseas visitor to Melbourne.

It is definitely not a cheap place to dine out nor really is it intended to be for like anything else in this world if it is good it costs and the best costs plenty.

Yet I would much rather pay more and have a memorable night than pay less and get so little by comparison.

The very setting of the Mayfair Room with its old world ballroom style seems to create an atmosphere of an era gone by when the customers was sovereign and service was not a chore for money but a craft to be admired and enjoyed.

From the moment you arrive you are cared for in a professional and skilful manner which is all the better for being subtle and unpretentious.

You get the idea from the outset that it's going to be a great night and such expectations are more than fulfilled.

The range of food is infuriating because there are so many dishes one would wish to try that choice becomes a real mental exercise.

The dishes are served with flair and grace and many are actually cooked at your table by waiters who obviously have been trained extensively in the culinary arts.

To make sure that you are receiving the maximum satisfaction maitre d' hotel KURT SIEBERT and head waiter CHICKO TOKANIDES are always at hand to offer advice and help.

And if that's not all the LUCIANO QURATET provide non-stop some of the best music in town for dining and dancing.

FORRESTR HITS 102 FOR ALTONA

A magnificent innings of 102 not out by Bruce Forrester enabled Altona A grade to declare 4/179 at tea after being put in by Fitzroy Footballers.

Striking the ball to all sides of the wicket, Forrester scored 13 boundaries in his innings of 127 minutes.

After tea, Mike Snoxall had early success with two quick wickets, one to a brilliant catch by Thomas.

Soon after, Robert Dare captured his 33rd wicket for the season when Garde and Snoxall combined to accept a hot chance.

Fitzroy footballer Searle had looked dangerous until he was well caught by Merrill Off Page.

The last 45 minutes produced some solid defensive batting and no further break through eventuated.

Wayne Patton kept very neatly during the Fitzroy innings and the fielding was tight.

With Fitzroy 5/60 at stumps, Altona are in a strong position to force an outright win.

Yachting winners

Peter Roberts (skipper) and Tony Olliver (crew) are the champions of Corio Bay.

They won the Corio Bay championship for international cadet dinghies, which was sailed over four heats at Geelong during the ANA weekend.

The winning crew recorded a win, a second and two thirds.

They represented the Royal Yacht Club of Victoria in their yacht Karrle Ann.

$40 trophies at stake for bowlers

Past president of Altona Bowling Club have donated trophies valued at $40 for the "Past Presidents' Day at the club on Sunday.

Starting at 1.45 p.m. the mixed tournament will be followed by a barbecue to which all bowlers are invited.

In weekend competition: A3 continued its winning way by decisively defeating Diamond Creek at home by 35 shots, (109-74).

Skipper L. F. Neilsen with W. Walsh, R. Douglas and L. Craig trebled their opponents score to win 33-11.

Other rinks: J. Fisher 34-22; T. Reid 17-22 and S. Carton 25-19.

Reserve 2 and B4 travelled to Yarraville/Seddon and returned somewhat chastened losing 84-107 and 77-96 respectively. For Reserve 2 the loss was calamitous; for with only three games left to play the slippery dip of possible relegation is only a push away.

Rink results Reserve 2: skipper I. Douglas with J. Carr, E. Franks and J. Rose 26-22; T. Burke 20-26; R. Watson 15-37; H. Deacon 23-22.

All B4 rinks lost, although two by only one shot. However, the gall stone of the team goes to skipper K. Andress with J. Clark; N. Cartwright and R. Millichip 14-27.

Other results: W. Inglis 22-23, A. Hill 18-19, N. Grant 23-27.

George Cross tops for Nordenne Cup

The eight teams competing in this year's Nordenne Cup are all fit and raring to go.

State league sides Haikoah and George Cross will face competition from sides like Mooroolbark.

Western suburbs are also capable of causing an upset.

George Cross is a greatly improved side and must start warm favorite in this competition.

Local side Altona City has always put up a good showing.

This year, it could give other teams a hard time with Billy Kerr and the addition of 16-year-old stars, Micevski and Little.

A final warm-up game was played against Croatia on Saturday, with Ian Reid crashing home three goals and Little one.

Altona would have taken the match out had it Croatia scored a win but two goals eventually, but if that match was any indication of Altona's form for the coming year, the Maroons will have an excellent season.

However bad news for supporters is that flying winger Steve Harman is in Fairfield Hospital with a mysterious illness.
